September in the Rain is an observational comedy classic by John Godber. It follows the life of miner Jack and his wife Liz, on their annual family holidays to Blackpool, over 40-years.

They laugh and bicker, as they conjure up memories of the good old days, enjoying ice creams and paddling in the sea. From their first holiday as young newlyweds, we accompany them as they stroll along the pier into their twilight years.

A beautifully touching and nostalgic play, produced by Little Diamond Theatre Company as a charitable event for MAHDLO, a state-of-the-art Youth Zone that offers young people in Oldham an exciting range of activities and opportunities.
